

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 18, line 20 with the following:

Incidentally, although it has been explained that the data processor 10, image display unit 20, and print unit 30 are separate ~~unit with~~ units which communicate with each other, they may be configured as an integral unit. Also, the components of the printing device 1 may be distributed over different sites and connected via a network.
